ERGO TOP

- Adjustable: Tilttable from 0° to max 60° and adjustable up to 25cm in height as needed. For those who have to work several hours a day with a laptop in the office, it reduces neck fatigue and relieves back pain by improving sitting. It reduces eye fatigue by adjusting the height of vision.
- Collaborative: It allows you to comfortably turn the laptop horizontally and orient it in the desired direction. If you're watching a presentation or communicating with colleagues, you can quickly rotate the screen without having to move your laptop frequently to make collaboration easier.
- Robust: High quality aluminum alloy has excellent thermal conductivity which contributes to better heat dissipation. The 4 non-slip rubber pads on the top tray help keep the laptop stable and prevent it from slipping. Non-slip rubber pads under the base keeps the support stable.
- User-friendliness: Lightweight and foldable, this product is easy to carry. It can fit all laptops and tablets from 10" to 17". Thanks to the aluminum alloy material and surface oxidation treatment, this product is durable and will not deform.

OUR EXPERTISE

Why use a monitor stand or laptop riser?

These days, more and more people use several screens to accomplish their tasks, so you need to know whether your working position is suitable and ergonomic. Are you sitting up straight? Do you feel that your neck is in its natural, relaxed position? When you look at your screen, do you keep your gaze straight, without looking up or down? If the answer to these simple questions is no, it's high time you bought yourself a laptop stand with a screen riser or even a screen support arm. These will enable you to align your eyes correctly with the top of your screen and prevent RSI by reducing neck strain.
